15. Multidisciplinary / interdisciplinary

The institution's multidisciplinary/interdisciplinary plan aligned with the National Education Policy (NEP) seeks to promote a holistic and integrated approach to education. The plan includes taking autonomy for the institute next year followed by redesigning the curriculum to incorporate interdisciplinary courses, allowing students to explore diverse subjects and develop a broader skill set. Collaborative research projects and initiatives across departments will encourage cross-disciplinary learning and innovation. Faculty development programs will focus on fostering interdisciplinary teaching methods and pedagogies. Additionally, the institution will establish research centres and labs to address complex societal challenges through multidisciplinary research. This NEP-driven plan aims to produce well-rounded graduates equipped with a comprehensive understanding of various disciplines, nurturing critical thinking and problem-solving abilities to tackle real-world complexities.

16. Academic bank of credits (ABC):

As per the National Education Policy (NEP), the institution will implement the Academic Bank of Credits (ABC) after taking autonomy from UGC to provide students with greater flexibility and mobility in their academic pursuits. The plan involves creating a digital platform where students can accumulate credits for various courses and learning experiences. These earned credits can be transferred across programs and institutions, enabling learners to design their personalized learning paths. The institution will establish a robust credit recognition framework and guidelines to ensure seamless credit transfers. This ABC plan aims to empower students, promote lifelong learning, and encourage interdisciplinary study, ultimately fostering a more dynamic and learner-centric education ecosystem within the institution.

17.Skill development:

Institute is regularly offering soft skill development modules to all the students. It offer numerous benefits to college students. Firstly, they equip students with practical skills and competencies that are highly valued in the job market, increasing their employability prospects. Such classes also foster personal growth, enhancing communication, time management, and problem-solving abilities. Additionally, skill development promotes self-confidence and resilience, enabling students to adapt to dynamic work environments. These classes encourage creativity and critical thinking, improving students' overall academic performance. Moreover, students gain exposure to industry-relevant technologies and practices, preparing them for real-world challenges. Overall, skill development classes empower college students to become well-rounded individuals with the necessary tools to excel academically and professionally in their chosen fields.

18.Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

Institute has planned to implement Indian Knowledge System after taking the autonomy. The appropriate integration of the Indian Knowledge system involves teaching in Indian languages, incorporating cultural elements, and utilizing online courses. By delivering educational content in local languages, students can better connect with the subject matter and retain information effectively. Integrating cultural aspects in the curriculum fosters a sense of identity and pride, promoting holistic learning. Online courses offer accessibility, allowing students from diverse backgrounds to access quality education irrespective of geographical barriers. Additionally, the combination of Indian knowledge and modern technology ensures a comprehensive and inclusive educational experience, preserving traditional wisdom while embracing the advantages of digital learning methods.

19.Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

Institute has adopted the OBE system since 2015-16 and got the NBA accreditation for the UG program. Adopting Outcome-Based Education (OBE) brings transformative outcomes for the institution. Students demonstrate enhanced learning outcomes as OBE focuses on developing specific knowledge, skills, and competencies, aligning with industry demands. Faculty become more student-centred, employing innovative teaching methodologies and assessments to measure learning achievements effectively. The institution experiences improved curriculum design, ensuring relevance and practical application. OBE facilitates the seamless integration of interdisciplinary concepts, fostering critical thinking and problem-solving abilities among students. Accreditation processes become streamlined, leading to higher recognition and ranking. Ultimately, the institution thrives as it produces job-ready graduates with well-defined outcomes, meeting the needs of the ever-changing global landscape.

20.Distance education/online education:

Offering distance education or online education in pharmacy courses comes with specific challenges. Firstly, practical training and hands-on experience are essential in pharmacy education, making it challenging to replicate these aspects in a virtual environment. Ensuring the authenticity and integrity of assessments, especially in laboratory-based subjects, can be complex. Access to advanced laboratory equipment and resources may be limited for distance learners. Additionally, maintaining regular communication and engagement with students in an online setting can be challenging, potentially leading to reduced interaction and motivation. Overcoming these challenges requires innovative teaching methodologies, robust technology infrastructure, and dedicated faculty support to provide a comprehensive and effective learning experience for distance pharmacy students.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Programme and course outcomes for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on website and communicated to teachers and students.

The course outcomes are designed based on the learning objectives of the course that are given in the syllabus as per the PCI.

The college has defined the program outcomes (POs) based on the following graduate attributes: pharmacy knowledge, planning abilities, problem analysis, modern tool usage, leadership skills, professional identity, pharmaceutical ethics, communication, pharmacist and the society, environment and sustainability, and life-long learning.

Course Outcome (COs) are prepared by the respective subject faculty and the department-in-charge (DICs) finally approve the same after discussion with other members of the faculty.

All the COs of the subjects are communicated to teachers and students in the following ways:

- (a) discussion in academic meetings

(b) discussion during induction programs

(d) discussion in the classroom at the beginning of the course

(e) discussion in a mentoring session.

Upload COs for all Programmes (exemplars from Glossary)	No File Uploaded

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

Response: We follow outcome-based learning and evaluation methods as per the pattern of the Washington Accord 1989. First, faculty members prepare COs for each course and set the attainment level for each CO based on previous results and level of difficulty. Each faculty member has studied the POs thoroughly and mapped them with COs as correlation level 1 (low), 2 (medium) or 3 (high). The mode value of COPO correlation was used for correlating the Course with PO. For the evaluation of COs, well defined statistical technique (excel spreadsheet) is used to map the questions with the COs and POs. Since the question-wise result of students from the university semester examination is not available, analysis of CO with questions is limited to internal examinations, assessment of lab practicals, assignments and quizzes only.

Attainment of COs:

I. University examination

II. Internal assessment

Attainment of POs:

The following method is adopted for recording the attainment of individual PO. The attainment was calculated by multiplying the average % of students attaining COs with the average level (1, 2 or 3) of that PO divided by 100.

7.1.3 - Describe the facilities in the Institution for the management of the following types of degradable and non-degradable waste (within 200 words) Solid waste management Liquid waste management Biomedical waste management E-waste management Waste recycling system Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management

Effective waste management in our college is essential for promoting environmental sustainability and encouraging responsible waste disposal practices among students and staff.

The most crucial component of solid waste management is segregation of garbage, which is done at Rungta Pharmacy College in Bhilai. Plastics, metal, glass, and other non-biodegradable debris are collected and delivered to the Bhilai Municipal Corporation in Bhilai. For solid garbage, small and large buckets are used. Many dustbins were created by Rungta College students using garbage cartoons and placed in classrooms.

A girl's hostel at Rungta College in Bhilai can accommodate 180 students. Dry trash, such as papers, coconut peels, and a sizable quantity of garden waste, most of which takes the shape of leaves, is composted (in a composting pit) and utilized for organic farming in colleges.

By adopting these waste management practices, colleges can create a more environmentally responsible campus community and set an example for their students, inspiring them to carry these practices into their future lives and careers.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Programme and course outcomes for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on website and communicated to teachers and students.

The course outcomes are designed based on the learning objectives of the course that are given in the syllabus as per the PCI.

The college has defined the program outcomes (POs) based on the following graduate attributes: pharmacy knowledge, planning abilities, problem analysis, modern tool usage, leadership skills, professional identity, pharmaceutical ethics, communication, pharmacist and the society, environment and sustainability, and life-long learning.

Course Outcome (COs) are prepared by the respective subject faculty and the department-in-charge (DICs) finally approve the same after discussion with other members of the faculty.

All the COs of the subjects are communicated to teachers and students in the following ways:

- (a) discussion in academic meetings
- (b) discussion during induction programs
- (d) discussion in the classroom at the beginning of the course
- (e) discussion in a mentoring session.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

Response: We follow outcome-based learning and evaluation methods as per the pattern of the Washington Accord 1989. First, faculty members prepare COs for each course and set the attainment level for each CO based on previous results and level of difficulty. Each faculty member has studied the POs thoroughly and mapped them with COs as correlation level 1 (low), 2 (medium) or 3 (high). The mode value of COPO correlation was used for correlating the Course with PO. For the evaluation of COs, well defined statistical technique (excel spreadsheet) is used to map the questions with the COs and POs. Since the question-wise result of students from the university semester examination is not available, analysis of CO with questions is limited to internal examinations, assessment of lab practicals, assignments and quizzes only.

Attainment of COs:

I. University examination

II. Internal assessment

Attainment of POs:

The following method is adopted for recording the attainment of individual PO. The attainment was calculated by multiplying the average % of students attaining COs with the average level (1, 2 or 3) of that PO divided by 100.

7.1.3 - Describe the facilities in the Institution for the management of the following types of degradable and non-degradable waste (within 200 words) Solid waste management Liquid waste management Biomedical waste management E-waste management Waste recycling system Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management

Effective waste management in our college is essential for promoting environmental sustainability and encouraging responsible waste disposal practices among students and staff.

The most crucial component of solid waste management is segregation of garbage, which is done at Rungta Pharmacy College in Bhilai. Plastics, metal, glass, and other non-biodegradable debris are collected and delivered to the Bhilai Municipal Corporation in Bhilai. For solid garbage, small and large buckets are used. Many dustbins were created by Rungta College students using garbage cartoons and placed in classrooms.

A girl's hostel at Rungta College in Bhilai can accommodate 180 students. Dry trash, such as papers, coconut peels, and a sizable quantity of garden waste, most of which takes the shape of leaves, is composted (in a composting pit) and utilized for organic farming in colleges.

By adopting these waste management practices, colleges can create a more environmentally responsible campus community and set an example for their students, inspiring them to carry these practices into their future lives and careers.
